A: You've mixed up site_path and android_sites. You're getting the site_path because it is in the sites array, while you're looking at the sites array in your AndroidManifest.xml. Change that: /sites/site1.kunde.de to /sites/site1.kunde.de. I'm going to give this a test drive. Hello all, newbie here. I have been lurking for a while but not posting much. I started brewing about a month ago and am now getting to where I need to be. My questions are: what grain to use for a porter? I am looking at using Maris Otter but don't know if I should use a mash temperature of about 156 and do a big mash. I am going to use the water profile from here I read on the forum here that the conversion rates on most porters were about 1.105-1.125 for English Porter and 1.085-1.115 for a Scotch style Porter. But the batch size was around 2.5 gallons and in your porter you have 5.6 gallons of volume. Is my assumption that I should use 2.5 gallons of base grain correct? Do I need to use the conversion rates or are there different conversions per amount of volume? Another question is when you brew you using a ratio of 1.2 for your IBUs?
