There's something about this film [that] is a little bit special and a little bit upsetting," says John Wick's Keanu Reeves. "A little bit tragic. I'm sad. I really enjoyed it and I'm grateful to have been a part of it, but it's over now. And we have to get back to work." Now, almost exactly a year later, Reeves, who stars opposite Sherlock Holmes: A Game of Shadows star Mark Strong in the upcoming sequel, offers new insight to his commitment to John Wick and the rest of the film industry's angry reaction to the 2016 presidential election. "It's been a very difficult time for those people [who work in the industry] that I know [and] that we just shared scenes with, who have all been affected," Reeves tells Men's Health. "It's
