The man who used his office address as a mail box for drug and prostitution activity is charged with numerous offenses related to his employment as a city employee and as a real estate agent. John M. Clute of Hernando was arrested Tuesday, Aug. 6, and charged with one count each of promoting prostitution, obstructing governmental operations, racketeering and money laundering. According to the arrest warrant affidavit, Clute was employed by the city as a claims examiner and in that capacity received a number of large insurance checks, some of which were cashed at a U.S. Postal Service mail box located in Clute's city office. In January 2012, a confidential informant told police that Clute was selling illegal drugs and soliciting prostitutes. On several occasions from 2011 to 2012, the informant gave Clute information on the location of prostitutes and drug dealers in West Hernando and the city of Brooksville. In August 2011, the informant told police that Clute had cashed an insurance check ca3bfb1094
