Me, my husband and my three-year-old daughter live in Hong Kong. We moved there in 2017, when my husband, who had been a resident since 2013, got a job at a new company. Living and working in Hong Kong is both exciting and terrifying, though it is a lot easier now that we are settled, and we have a bit of a rhythm. I have always been interested in the idea of living and working in a different country. My husband had been to Shanghai and Beijing a few times before, but he was very excited to go back to Hong Kong, and I got the urge to do the same with my daughter. I'm excited to share my experiences with you. In Hong Kong, there is not the same rush to pack your stuff and get moving to a new city as there is in London. I never worry about the children missing their friends or not having anything to do because the local kids have plenty of toys and opportunities. For example, during the summer holidays, they can go to the park and play - they can play in the water, jump off the big slide or chase the ball. Plus, they can play badminton and ride bikes. As the weather gets colder, my daughter gets to play hockey and go sledging. I never feel like I am missing out because my daughter is always going somewhere and doing something. She has developed a great sense of autonomy, and she is free to go exploring on her own if she wants to, and there is a lot she wants to explore. Of course, there are downsides too. Although the quality of public transport is good, the children are used to taking the MTR every day to go to the park. They also end up picking up a lot of sticky stuff from the ground, which ends up inside their shoes, on their clothes

History The town was first founded at the end of the 17th century, during the reign of King Jan III Sobieski. To the south, Velka Ruda was bordered by towns of Stary Sącz and Kamieniec. To the east, the town bordered Wierzchlas, to the north-west, Ostroróg, and to the west, Strużów. The name comes from the Polish word velký, meaning great. The first mention of Velka Ruda in written documents is found in the founding charter of the town of Stary Sącz in 1596. At that time, several villages were united to form an estate owned by the owners of Stary Sącz. In 1772, for the first time in over 300 years, the town of Velka Ruda was ruled by a foreign monarch. The town became a part of the Kingdom of Prussia. In 1795, it

Q: Java streams combine sum with list My goal is to Sum-Collect but using my method implementation something strange happened. My goal is to write method that return sum and list of item. But, when I write loop it's return me 0 and List with null items. What's wrong?

class Type {
    private int value;
    public Type(int value) { this.value = value; }
    public int getValue() { return value; }

My method:
List getCurrentTypes() {
    List types = new ArrayList();
    int currentNumber = 1;
    for(Type type : types) {
        if(value % 2 == 1) {
            types.add(new Type(currentNumber++));
            types.add(new Type(currentNumber++));
        }
    for(Type type : types) {
        System.out.println(type.getValue()+" "+types);
    return types;
}

My loop
