Anderson Clayton & Co. Mexico: Ed..Q: DataGridView cell background color I wanted to change the background color of a DataGridView cell based on the value of a label. I got both the value of the label and the background color of the cell to change based on the value of the cell but when I reopen the form the color is set to the value of the label not the value of the cell. Is there a way to get the color of the value of the cell without creating a new cell every time the cell value changes? A: You could do this with a custom control. Implement a class which inherits from DataGridView. You override the Paint event and directly set the font and back color of the cell. Q: Code in switch statement shows error: [] is not assignable to type'string | number' Could anyone explain to me the reason why this error shows?
