Designer's thoughts on the game

"The game is set in a fantasy world where a strong sense of ambition and curiosity are a prerequisite for adventure. In the game, the fantasy world is a parallel world to the contemporary real world. With the use of actual and fake currency, the exterior and interior worlds of the game collide and overlap. I am very happy to hear people's impressions, and I hope you enjoy the game." — Yoichi Sugiyama

Concept Development History (2014)

Development Budget: Approximately $97,000.

One of the game's features is a map that you construct your own city, which expands your vision of the game. For this reason, we concluded that the production of an open world environment that could be continuously expanded was required to create a game rich in content. The number of dungeons and scenarios in the game was increased to create a dense and diversified narrative, and the number of items and upgrades was increased to give players the impression of there being an unlimited item pool. We sought to further increase the text content, the number of character moves, and the volume of dialogue to heighten the drama.

The world of the game and the narrative and character relationships are dependent on how the story is told, and we needed to heavily stress the balance between narrative expectations and reality to connect the execution with its story line. For this reason, the balance of game design between the narrative elements and the game design elements has been thought up as a basis for the game design.

The lack of action scenes is a contrast with the series prequel, Lacrim

THE NEW FANTASY ACTION RPG. Rise, Tarnished, and be guided by grace to brandish the power of the Elden Ring and become an Elden Lord in the Lands Between. #Rated E for intense action and blood! Don't like it? Let us know here on the net. This game is a real piece of work! There's so many references in this game to classic Roleplaying and Card games like Magic: The Gathering and Final Fantasy. We may also have to mention the tabletop game "D&D" The Beginning, which you can have a look at it here. Well I first went to a dating game and I wanted to see if I can beat Ryu or Stark this time and to see if the Level 4's can defeat me. Well I started in Ancient Province but the game wasn't that interesting. I moved on to Tarna's Town but that was boring too. I ended up in the Sunflower Hill and I noticed a lot of Clan Castle sign and a Clan Castle Legendary Merchant. I asked the Historian if Clan Castle is the town. and he told me I'm right.
