Users can view a list of scheduled dates and times. They can then select an item to click to book. My database has two tables (schedule, users). Users can only have one schedule at a time. I want users to be able to sort (sort by "start time") or search for their schedule (search for "test") I have a hash of values (schedules) containing attribute(start time, user_id). Right now, I'm searching the database for the schedule with a list of "
