Average customer rating:.[Screening and identification of active components in Radix Scutellaria]. To screen the active components in Radix Scutellaria using multi-reaction monitoring (MRM) and ultra-high pressure liquid chromatography-tandem mass spectrometry (UHPLC-MS/MS) techniques and identified the related compounds in Radix Scutellaria. The column of UHPLC-MS/MS was Kromasil 100 C18 (2.6 mm × 100 mm, 1.8 μm). The mobile phase consisted of A (0.1% acetic acid solution containing 2 mmol/L ammonium acetate and 0.1% acetic acid solution containing 2 mmol/L ammonium acetate) and B (acetonitrile) (10: 90, v/v). The following gradient elution was used: 0-10 min, 10-15% B; 10-20 min, 15-20% B; 20-25 min, 20-30% B; 25-30 min, 30-70% B; and 30-40 min, 70-100% B. The temperature was set at 30 °C, flow rate of mobile phase was set at 0.3 mL/min, and the injection volume was set at 10 μL. The MRM spectra were acquired by electrospray ionization (ESI) in positive mode and negative mode. And the data processing and identification were carried out using Masslynx V4.1 software. 39 compounds were screened out and identified by UHPLC-MS/MS. The MS spectra and fragmentation patterns of compounds were identified using the analytical data and the related references. The results showed that 39 compounds were identified in Radix Scutellaria, including 2 flavonoids, 13 caffeic acid ester, 12 lignans, and 12 tetrahydro-β-carbolines. The MS spectra and fragmentation patterns of compounds were identified using the analytical data and the related references. The present study systematically analyzed the compounds in Radix Scutellaria, providing the basis for the determination of the active components and the quality control of Radix
