Photoshop is a multi-platform program, and it works in both Mac and Windows environments. For best results in each environment, you must use the versions that are built for that platform; refer to your manual to check the version that you have. For example, Photoshop CS6 is a version available only for use on a Mac computer. Photoshop supports a huge variety of input and output formats. It supports such high-end RAW formats as Canon's Nikon NEF and Nikon's DNG, and high-quality TIFFs. You can save Photoshop files in such lower-end formats as JPEG and GIF, which are often used on websites as graphic images. But if you need to work in one of these formats or to output files, Photoshop can do so for you. You can view, edit, save, and export these files using Photoshop. See Chapter 9 for more on working with RAW, JPEG, TIFF, and GIF images.

Clickfunnels has recently announced some changes to the pricing structure of their popular subscription program. The new rate structure is designed to provide more value to consumers and for that reason, it has been met with much criticism. Can people afford to remain a Clickfunnels customer? In my opinion, can people afford 05a79cecff

Q: Proving the Cauchy-Schwarz inequality for the norm of a vector If  $v$  and  $w$  are vectors in an inner product space, we have that  $\|v\|^2 + \|w\|^2 = \|v + w\|^2 \geq \|v\|^2 + \|w\|^2 + 2\langle v, w \rangle$ . I have come across the above statement quite often, in the sense that I would expect that the square of the inner product of two vectors to be  $\leq$  their inner product. If you could provide me with a reference to a proof of the above statement that satisfies the conditions of a "standard textbook proof," I would appreciate it. My attempt to prove the inequality is as follows: First of all, we have that  $v$  and  $w$  are two finite  $\mathbb{R}$ -vector spaces, so they have bases,  $B = \{v_1, \dots, v_n\}$  and  $C = \{w_1, \dots, w_m\}$ . Let  $v_{ij}$  be the  $i$ th basis vector in  $B$  that is paired with  $w_{ij}$  in  $C$ , and  $\langle v_i, v_j \rangle = \delta_{ij}$ ,  $\langle w_i, w_j \rangle = \gamma_{ij}$ , and  $\langle v_i, w_j \rangle = \theta_{ij}$ . I can write  $\frac{v}{\|v\|} = \sum_{i=1}^n \alpha_i v_i$  with  $\alpha_i \in \mathbb{R}$ . Similarly, I can write  $\frac{w}{\|w\|} = \sum_{j=1}^m \beta_j w_j$  with  $\beta_j \in \mathbb{R}$ . Now, let us expand:  $\langle \frac{v}{\|v\|}, \frac{w}{\|w\|} \rangle = \frac{1}{\|v\|\|w\|} \sum_{i=1}^n \alpha_i \sum_{j=1}^m \beta_j \langle v_i, w_j \rangle$
