Welcome to a world where you discover the Secret of the TerraBeast. A TerraBeast is a massive living organism that thrives and breathes life into the land. Over time, a healthy, living TerraBeast can live for thousands of years. But this world is not as it seems. Some sinister forces covet the secrets of the TerraBeast and would stop at nothing to harness their power. Danger lurks at every turn and you must use your wits, cunning, and ingenuity to survive, and save a world that needs your help to transform. TerraBeast features OpenFeint/Game Center integration that allows you to challenge your friends, compare scores, and earn extra items for rewards. TerraBeast is a sandbox game that offers infinite possibilities and a living, breathing world. =====

===== Use this link to get $5 off of GOG.com: A: I agree with jfsiem, it's an interesting idea and there might be something fun here, but for a specific reason I don't want to try it. I've done many sandboxes in the past and the problem I always had is that the world wasn't properly randomized and the world was defined by a set of all possible states of the world. With that, if I would have liked to put all my effort in fixing the world, I would have never had any time to relax or just play around with the sandbox, as every time I would have started another playthrough for the world to be generated fresh. If I had spent all my time to make sure the world was a proper sandbox, I would have probably ended up with the feeling of "This is boring and pointless". I like the idea of some player made world, but I never liked sandbox as they either had too much content, too little, and I never liked them because of the perceived quality - they were too messed up. You really need the right mix of custom content and the easy random world system. A: I agree with jfsiem. It is an interesting idea, however it has a few fatal flaws. You can't control the progression of the random seed since you don't know the seed you will be using. Meaning that if you did get the current art, it will be a fixed and pre-determined artefact. You will

What's new:

12.11.2013, 9:57 am I have created a new mod project on my mod site. Not yet uploaded to the marketplace, and I would really like to hear what you guys think of it before I do release it just a head up, for those that can't see the grid, it's the entirety of my quarry world as long as you land on a rock Videos: EDIT: let me know if it works in your building Spoiler: The following builds include a Terrabeast and the Terrabeast X3, and two Terrabeasts, one with the hunter head on the ground, and one with a special shell. The following builds includes a Terrabeast and the Terrabeast X3, and two Terrabeasts, one with the hunter head on the ground, and one with a special shell. Terrabeast Original Terrabeast Terrabeast X3 (special shell) Terrabeast (hunter head) if you're more comfortable with swimming or if you just have an extra hunter head laying around (no big) It's a world where many monsters I normally wouldn't draw exist.. and if you ask me, it's also my best world out of all my worlds. For those of you who have no idea how a Terrabeast works, or just want to get some practice in on both building and character building, these are perfect and fun worlds, as long as you can follow the directions, and adapt the builds.. and do not expect to make a cannon in each playthrough If you have any questions, comments or concerns, reply in this thread Show us some love and upvote, re-post/RT Last edited by NexusVexus on Sat 12 Nov, 2013, 9:50 pm, edited 5 times in total.
